

naanu Team

Julia Devecchi is the Founder of naanu and has been vegan for three years. She put her love for food and startups together and came up with the idea for Naanu. When she became vegan she was frustrated with having to take pills although she felt healthy, which is where the idea originated from. Julia dedicates herself passionately to all the entrepreneurial activities and is always up for chatting about startups & vegan lifestyle!

Colin Wirz is our CTO and has a passion for tech and food, naanu immediately proved to be the perfect combo of his two passions! He's a web developer with more than 10 years of experience. At naanu, he takes care of the website and all technical aspects, and he's thrilled to contribute to our important mission to save the planet.

Aurora Puddu is in charge of Marketing. She joined the team after a master's degree in marketing and market research to pursue her passion for the field and learn more about social media. The closeness to the environmental theme and the young team have created a perfect opportunity for her.
